Introduction

A Directory of English Language Teaching Videos

Compiled by Julie Falsetti
Hunter College, City University of New York

The goal of this directory is to list videos designed to assist in the teaching of English or the training of teachers of English. In preparation for this edition of the Directory, I contacted all the distributors listed in the second edition and asked them to supply me with current information on the videos that they produce. The information they supplied is presented here. In addition, I have tried to include as many new videos as came to my attention.

To keep the database in which the information is stored as current as possible, I have included a form at the back of the Directory to enter video information. Please use this form to report any errors or omissions.

The third edition of the Directory would not have been possible without the assisstance of TESOL, the former editors of the Directory, Chuck Passentino and Peter Thomas, and the members of the Video Interest Section who were responsible for initiating the project. A words of thanks, also, to Susan Stempleski for her help in keeping me abreast of current videos, and to Bill Gruber, Eric Schweitzer and Wai Wu Wong for their assistance in getting the database information into copy ready form.

Key to Entries

Format: Video size or type. Different formats require different video players. VHS, BETA (Betamax), UMAT (Umatic), ALL (available in VHS, Betamax and Umatic) or DISC (videodisc).

Standard: Video color type. Different standards are used in different countries (e,g. NTSC in Japan and the United States, PAL in India and the United Kingdom, SECAM in France and Russia) and require different video players. NTSC, PAL, SECAM or ALL (available in NTSC, PAL and SECAM).

Variety: Variety of English used in the video. AM (American), BR (British), AM/BR (American/British), AUS (Australian) or Various.

Use: Purpose of the video. ACA (Academic Purposes), ESP (English for Special/Specific Purposes), GEN (General Purpose), REF (Refugee Concerns) or TT (Teacher Training).

Target: Age of the intended audience (in the case of instructional videos) or of the subjects/students shown (teacher training videos). ADULT (20 or older), TEEN (13 to 19), CHILD (12 or younger) or ALL.

Level: English proficiency of the intended audience (in the case of instructional videos) or of the subjects/students shown (teacher training videos). BEG (beginning), INT (intermediate), ADV (advanced) or ALL.

Price: Price of the video. $ (less than US $100), $$ (US $100 - $250), $$$ (US $250 - $500), $$$$ (more than US $500). This is intended to give a general notion of the price; actual prices may vary depending on the current rates set by the video distributor and prevailing rates of exchange.

If the video is available in more than one format, the price indicated is for the cheapest format. If the video comes on more than one tape, the price indicated is usually for a complete set of tapes; however, in cases where there are a number of independent tapes, the price indicated is for one of these tapes. Frequently (although by no means always), the price indicated also includes one copy of accompanying print materials.

Duration: Length of the video. (Number of units/episodes) x (Number of minutes).

Support Materials: Print and other materials available for use with the video. AUDIO (audiotape(s)), NOTES (print materials less substantial than a book), SCRIPT (script of the video as a separate document), SELF STUDY (study materials produced exclusively for this purpose, i. e. not designed also as classroom materials), SOFT (computer software), ST BK (student book specifically produced to accompany the video), TXT BK (student book not specifically produced to accompany the video, but related to it), T BK (teacher's book), WK BK (student work or activity book).

Distributor: Name of the person or organization from whom the video is available. The address and telephone numbers of all distributors are listed at the back of the Directory.

Published: Year of first publication of the video.

Review: Citations for published reviews of the video.

Entry/Revision Date: Month and year of the most recent update for this entry.
